REFLECTIONS from the Executive Director

In Fiscal Year 2016 we celebrated 100 years of the Fellowship of Reconciliation! The year included centennial events designed to honor and celebrate the perseverance for peace that FOR has demonstrated for a century, including a retrospective exhibit staged at the Union Theological Seminary, an art installation and FOR documentary in-progress screening at Shadowcliff, a Multifaith service followed by an awards dinner and program at Riverside Church, and a national convergence at the Seabeck Conference Center in Washington State.

As we move out of our first century of existence and into the next, our goal of ending structures of violence and war through the transformative power of nonviolence is needed as much now as ever.

Thanks to your support, during the last year we were able to offer voice, advocacy and leadership to movements and urgencies where violence and militarization steal lives and perpetuate cycles of loss. We also launched a new website, and prioritized a number of initiatives to engage youth and young adult activists. Our current priorities include the Movement for Black Lives, the Syrian Crisis with particular attention to refugees and Islamophobia, and the occupation in Israel-Palestine.

All of this was accomplished thanks to your partnership and faithfulness. You’ll see in the following pages not only more details on the year’s initiatives, campaigns and actions, but also details of our financial stewardship. For the second fiscal year in a row, FOR has ended the year in the black, ending many years of expenses outrunning income. A significant portion of our revenue comes from bequests for which we are deeply grateful. If you are interested in discussing a legacy gift, please contact our Development Director, Jonette O’Kelley Miller. With you, we will persevere for peace into the next century.

With deep gratitude,

Rev. Kristin Gill Stoneking
Executive Director
This year marks the momentous celebration of FOR’s Centennial. We celebrate the growth, in body and spirit, of the dream of the founders a century ago, expanding to the inclusion of people from all religions and people of conscience recognizing the imperative and power of nonviolence to bring about justice and peace. We celebrate FOR’s many creative acts in the last 100 years to counter the oppressive forces of racism, militarism, and materialism. We celebrate the multitude of profound relationships established in the shared efforts to awaken humanity from the nightmare of war and injustice. We celebrate the hope, joy, and love that is fostered in these relationships.

In 2015-16, the National Council continued to actively bring in greater diversity of (especially) age, gender, race, and faith tradition and incorporate the wisdom brought by these perspectives. The focus on living within our means and creatively responding to the needs of the moment make for careful and creative decision-making. Nationwide, we supported as policy efforts related to mass incarceration and the Black Lives Matter movement. One example was NC support of the Pardon Petition Initiative. We took action in support for the BDS (Boycott/Divestment/Sanctions) movement to assist Palestinian self-determination, and facilitated long conversations on this issue with FOR members.

As the end of this fiscal year marks the end of my term as Chair of the NC, I express my personal gratitude for the many opportunities and inspirations this volunteer work has afforded me. I was profoundly blessed to grow into this position. I am particularly grateful for the wise counsel and leadership of Rev. Kristin Stoneking as our Executive Director in “turning the [financial] ship away from the rocks,” in treating all FOR members with respect and care no matter the issue at hand, and in her consistent capacity to lead and to communicate from a position of spiritual centeredness. I am humbly grateful for the wonderful people I worked with, the FOR staff and the NC members who contribute their love, care, time, and wisdom to furthering the dream of “taking away all causes of war.”

Peace and Grace,

Laurie Childers
Chair, FOR USA National Council

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS’ REPORT

Board of Directors
Fellowship of Reconciliation, Inc. and Affiliates
Nyack, New York

Report on the Consolidated Financial Statements

We have audited the accompanying consolidated financial statements of the Fellowship of Reconciliation, Inc. and Affiliates (a nonprofit organization, the “Organization”), which comprise the consolidated statements of financial position as of June 30, 2016 and 2015, and the related consolidated statements of activities and changes in net assets and cash flows for the years then ended, and the related notes to the consolidated financial statements.

Management’s Responsibility for the Consolidated Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these consolidated financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America; this includes the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditors’ Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these consolidated financial statements based on our audits. We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the consolidated financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor’s judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity’s preparation and fair presentation of the consolidated financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity’s internal control. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the consolidated financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.
Opinion

In our opinion, the consolidated financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Organization as of June 30, 2016 and 2015, and the changes in its net assets and its cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.
